

Gabrielle D'Annunzio Still A Hotspur At 55

Career of Daring Poet-Soldier of Italy, Who Recently Has Undertaken to Seize the Dalmatian Coast for His Country, Has Been Marked by Inconsistencies.

WITH his bold seizure of the city of Fiume, Gabrielle D'Annunzio, Italy's brilliant poet-soldier, has added one more dramatic episode to a life in which he already has achieved a permanent place in world history as poet, novelist, dramatist and soldier. The imagination of the Italian troops for the daring poet may be a tribute either to the man's personality or to the man's dramatic appeal of his daring in the last movement. It is difficult to say which of the two is the cause of the hero's popularity.

To tell the truth, I am a little out of sympathy with the man who has achieved such a great feat of arms. I am a little out of sympathy with the man who has achieved such a great feat of arms. I am a little out of sympathy with the man who has achieved such a great feat of arms.

There is a man who has achieved such a great feat of arms. I am a little out of sympathy with the man who has achieved such a great feat of arms. I am a little out of sympathy with the man who has achieved such a great feat of arms.

The old aristocracy of Rome and there followed a succession of adventures that might have corrupted morally a man stronger than he. But, while the old aristocracy of Rome and there followed a succession of adventures that might have corrupted morally a man stronger than he.

Deliberate in his schemes, "Gabriele" to his admirers, who from the first have been his admirers, who from the first have been his admirers, who from the first have been his admirers.

The hands rather large for his small body, very well chiseled and carefully painted. They are inconstant and mechanically lifting a cigarette in his right hand, which it is suddenly dropped with a click.

All his movements are accurate and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled and self-controlled.

the poet, who had grown dependent in his years of exile in Paris and Versailles. With all he had lost, something of his old self remained following the pleasure of his life, a poet or a person to set off his life, a poet or a person to set off his life, a poet or a person to set off his life.

With it and his friends had begun to seek what new distraction the poet would be able to find. For a while he was content to display his skill and daring in the air plane in which he had fought the Austrians. But this soon passed, and Italy had begun to conjecture what new turn D'Annunzio's restless nature might take next.

Agitation regarding some military entanglements or complications may reach a crisis before the end of the month. The planetary direction today is read as unfavorable for love affairs. Women are in danger of being seriously misjudged or of making foolish mistakes while this configuration prevails.

Speculative Experiment. Stephen C. Mason, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, says: "Government ownership of a speculative experiment at colonial expense in an hour when the nation's attention is fixed on the unprecedented debt. No plan could be devised that would more certainly demonstrate the business structure of the nation, jeopardize the savings of the industries or more certainly increase the cost of maintaining the life of every citizen being in the nation."

When Happiness Really Arrives

.. HOROSCOPE ..

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1919.

MERCURY rules strongly for good today, according to astrology, but Jupiter and Saturn are strongly adverse.

The rule is held to be most auspicious for newspapers and magazines. Publicity will continue to be much employed in government affairs, but there may be severe criticism of methods and changes in policy.

Monday, October 6, 1919. MERCURY today continues in benefic aspect, but many adverse stars have strong influence, according to astrology. Mars, Uranus and Saturn are all in evil way.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1919.

MERCURY today continues in benefic aspect, but many adverse stars have strong influence, according to astrology. Mars, Uranus and Saturn are all in evil way.

There appears to be foreboding much prominence for editors and press representatives, some of whom will receive important appointments or other recognitions.

It is pronounced that a journalist or publisher will attain a place made vacant in the president's cabinet. Agitation regarding some military entanglements or complications may reach a crisis before the end of the month.

The Ancient Mariner Had the Right Idea of a Dry Country, but Ma Thinks Pa is Doing Very Well Under

By WILLIAM F. KIRK.

Our teacher asked us to read a Poem in Vacation. It is called the Ancient Mariner. It is about a sailor who was on a ship where I remember that old poem well, and Pa. It fits fine now, too, and Pa. Water, water everywhere. The very boats did shrink. Water, water everywhere. That does fit the present day pretty well, doesn't it, Ma?

Gompers Names Labor Leaders For President's Big Conference

FIFTEEN union leaders, nine of whom are officials of the American Federation of Labor, have been named by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation, to represent organized labor at the president's industrial conference in Washington, opening today. The representatives of the people have already been named by president Wilson and those selected by the capitalists will soon be made public. Here are shown some of the men named to represent labor: Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; W. D. Mahon, representing the Street Railway Workers; T. A. Rickert, Garment Workers; Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; Daniel J. Tobin, Teamsters' Union; and M. E. Tighe, Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers.
